

International rider line up in Vienna

Vienna, March 12th – The fifth edition of the annual Vienna Air King mountain bike dirt jump competition makes Austria’s capital the centre of Europe’s dirt jump scene on April 10th and 11th.

Riders from seven countries are looking forward to start into the freeride season 2010 during the ARGUS Bike Festival. During the long winter months, they spent a lot of time on learning new tricks and therefore can’t wait to show their best tricks in front of the picturesque City Hall.

Beside the Vienna Air King champion 2009 - Martin Söderström from Sweden - and the White Style winner 2010 - Sam Pilgrim from the United Kingdom – overall 10 top athletes confirmed to come to Vienna.

Sam Pilgrim UK
Grant Fielder UK
Sam Reynolds UK
Niki Leitner AUT
Martin Söderström SWE
Linus Sjoeholm SWE
Anrdeu Lacondeguy ESP
Thomas Zjeida CZ
Amir Kabbani GER
Benny Korthaus GER
Andi Wittmann GER
Matthias Hoppensack GER

For more detailed information, please check out the official Vienna Air King website:
<http://www.vienna-air-king.at>.

For some video clips of last year’s Vienna Air King, please take a look on:
<http://www.watch26.tv/video/2480/Vienna+Air+King+2009+Highlights>.

Media related requests are welcome to be sent to: high@rasolution.com.